

Song Title: We are the Common Fund

Written by: Dr. Akarolo-Anthony from Adebamowo lab

Global Health, H3Africa Grantee

Song description:

My song, titled 'we are the common fund' is about people with diverse training and background working together to save lives.

The first verse is about a girl, whose expectations will suddenly be cut short. The second verse is about an elderly man, who needs a transplant but every time he gets a match, the organ is given to a younger, 'more deserving' individual. The third verse is about the Boston marathon victims, who 'broke a leg' by completing the race 'and broke a leg' by losing a limb.

I believe the common fund is anyone, who is inclined to breakthroughs, innovative thinking and set out to solve unique problems by working across disciplines including ethics, bioengineering and medicine. We can cure cancer in uncharted research territory; we can improve the quality of life, make a difference and save millions of lives.

She is a teen dancer
She has lung cancer
With just four months to live
She may not fulfill her dreams
She hopes for someone to change her fate

The answer is you
The answer is me
As one, we are the common fund
We can change lives
By working together
We can make a difference
By innovative thinking
We can change lives
By scientific breakthroughs
We will make a difference, one day at a time
We will save lives, millions at a time

He has waited many years
And lost to fair innings argument
Life after seventy should not be a bonus
My best years don't have to be behind me
How can we avoid another loss

The answer is you
The answer is me
As one, we are the common fund
We can change lives
By working together
We can make a difference
By innovative thinking
We can change lives
By scientific breakthroughs
We will make a difference, one day at a time
We will save lives, millions at a time

On a beautiful day in Spring
In the city on a hill
They went running for a cause
They broke a leg and broke a leg
But they are Strong
They wish to continue running

I run for a cause
You run for a cause
As one, we are the common fund
We can change lives
By working together
We can make a difference
By innovative thinking
We can change lives
By scientific breakthroughs
We will make a difference, one day at a time
We will save lives, millions at a time

As one, we are the common fund
We will make a difference, one day at a time
We will save lives, millions at a time